
Negative values indicate lower loss for the current-universe arm; positive values indicate higher loss.